

WILDLAND-URBAN INTERFACE

Community Meeting

Monday, July 21 from 2 to 3 p.m.

George Di Ciero City and County Building

Join Wildfire Resiliency Code Board Administrator, Carolyn Larsen, from the Colorado State Forest Service and the Department of Public Safety, to discuss the finalized Wildland-Urban Interface (WUI) Map and the 2025 Colorado Wildfire Resiliency Code (CWRC).

The 2025 Colorado Wildfire Resiliency Code has been finalized following formal rulemaking procedures. Links to the final version of the code and the state map for the code application can be found below.

2025 Colorado Wildfire Resiliency Code

2025 Colorado Wildfire Resiliency Code State Map

Check out Broomfield Voice for more information about the "2025 Colorado Wildfire Resiliency Code" (CWRC). It is a new comprehensive set of regulations designed to enhance life safety and property protection in Colorado's Wildland-Urban Interface (WUI) areas.

TOPICS INCLUDE:

- The background and authority of the Wildfire Resiliency Code Board
- The data and methodology behind the WUI map
- The purpose and scope of the new state code
- What the code means for local jurisdictions and next steps

